President's Corner

When Andy Williams released "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year" was he thinking of the start of our spring and summer driving season? I doubt it; yet many of us could put this on par or a notch ahead of the holiday season. Well let's get the 2nd "most wonderful time of the year" started. For the club it actually began on April 22nd with a great Tech Session at Detail Force. (See Heidi's article on Page 5). Twenty members enjoyed and participated in a very informative 2 hour session.

From here on out the calendar is full of events for all to partake. We don't have 12 months of the year to take full advantage of our cars, so let's make this a memorable 2017. On Saturday, May 13, we kick into full gear with Amy Lukes' 4th Annual FAM event where we can mingle with Maserati and Alfa owners.

We had a stellar response to our June 4th "Indulge" Drive with almost 28 cars planning to attend the drive. It was long overdue for the Club to sponsor a full fledge single day rally. As such, the Club will be planning to have similar single day rallies in July and August. If you have a favorite route from the past or one you'd like to share with the club, please send me all the details. If Club members can send me route ideas, I will do the rest and make sure we get a good response. Send any ideas to fcarmpresident@gmail.com. The word is out - Denver and Colorado are on the national and even global radar. We are all feeling the fruits of our notoriety with busy highways and byways. It's nice to get out on the quiet, open roads away from the hustle and bustle of the front range so let's find a quiet scenic route if it's still out there!

Our picnic is coming up on the last Sunday in June. Definitive times, pricing, reservations along with other details will be distributed in the next couple weeks. We will open up the RSVP requests June 1st so mark your calendar now.

Don't forget to sign up for the 34th annual Arapahoe Community College Concours. This is a big year for Ferrari; celebrating 70 years of Ferrari and 50 years for the Dino. Calling all Dino owners to please make our club proud with as many Dino's as possible. Please see Page 12.

In October we will have a very special Tech Session with some amazing metal craftsmen that all of us are sure to appreciate. Details to follow.

Hope to see you at an upcoming event.

Best Regards- Jay

Detail Force Clinic

By Heidi Frisch

It was splitting rain as we left our garage in our Ferrari 308 to head to Detail Force's FCA detailing clinic at their home location in Englewood, CO. The clouds were low and despite the somewhat rainy weather, it was really a pleasant drive over there.

We arrived and walked in to the buzz of conversation, a dozen or so car enthusiasts there already, and a pleasant array of breakfast items of fruit, donuts, muffins, coffee and juice. I enjoyed seeing the familiar faces of Jeff and Jared, the two brothers who own the detailing shop. Jeff, the founder of the shop, started it three years ago when he moved out here to Colorado from West Palm Beach Florida. More people kept arriving and eventually we made our way into the back of the shop where the detailing in the shop takes place.

A beautiful Grigio Silverstone Ferrari F430 was there for the demo. The F430 had the clear protective film on the front portion of the car (mirrors, hood, and bumper) that had already been installed by Detail Force. Jeff started us with an introduction to the F430 and the plotter that they had purchased to do this very specialized protective film process. This is one reason why this sets Detail Force apart from other shops. Instead of buying pre-cut film, or worse, cutting film on someone's car, they have invested in a newer, more precise technology that will make your car look absolutely amazing when they are finished. It made sense to Jeff and Jared to purchase the plotter, so they could download images and plot their own for a much better fit for each car that comes in.

Jared has gone through specialized training to learn the special technique to apply the clear film to cars. Depending on the size of clear film and the complexity, sometimes Jared can do the work by himself, and sometimes he needs Jeff to help him. The seam and lines were invisible on the F430. I couldn't even tell the car had anything on it at all. It was amazing and truly beautiful.

We then split into two groups. One set of folks watched as Jared did a ceramic coat detail of Ferrari wheels of a product they sell by Gyeon called RIM Q2.

The other group watched and listened to Jeff as he instructed everyone on how to clean and protect the leather on the seats of the car. We eventually switched to get a demo of the other. It was very educational for the whole Ferrari group.

Franny and I stayed a little bit later to watch as Jared began working on the BMW as he applied the ceramic coat to it. We had done our Ferrari 308 the summer before and we were interested in the process. If you aren't familiar with a ceramic coat for your car, I would highly recommend it for several reasons.

- 1) It protects your car paint.
- 2) It brings out the color of the paint underneath it.
- 3) It makes it easier to detail if you don't have time to wash it.

Someone made a comment to me that really hit home. It's possibly one of the reasons why I personally sing praises to Detail Force. Since Detail Force is owned by two brothers, it's not likely you need to worry about the turnover of technicians who do the work. You know what you will get when it comes to detailing. You know these guys work hard and take care, because they have pride in their business. We personally had some concerns about the paint on our car and they really took great care of us. We wouldn't hesitate to do another car in the ceramic coating or even a clear bra now. If you haven't visited Detail Force yet, I recommend them.

When we left the event, the sun was shining and another Ferrari had joined us in the parking lot. It was a beautiful day. We have a short video of the event that you can watch here.

Ferrari's Vettel: Raikkonen has not had deserved results in F1 2017

• By Lawrence Barretto @lawrobarretto Sunday May 7th, 2017

Ferrari Formula 1 driver Kimi Raikkonen has not had the results his performances so far this season have deserved, according to his team-mate Sebastian Vettel.

While Vettel leads the championship after four grand prix, having won two races and twice finished second, Raikkonen has managed just one podium and is already 37 points adrift.

Raikkonen was fourth in Australia and finished more than 40 seconds adrift of his German team-mate in fifth in China, prompting Ferrari president Sergio Marchionne to say he wanted talks about the Finn's form.

He recovered from a bad start to finish fourth in Bahrain and ahead of the Russian Grand Prix said "everything is fine" regarding his relationship with Marchionne before delivering his best weekend of the season where he finished third, just over 11 seconds behind Vettel.

Four-time champion Vettel was sympathetic to Raikkonen's early struggles and believes his fortunes will improve as the year goes on.

"He probably didn't have the races he deserved," said Vettel.

"In Bahrain obviously the start, the first lap cost him a lot, otherwise I'm sure he would've been on the podium.

"I see exactly what happens and things didn't go 100% in his direction so far but I don't think there's any doubt inside the paddock that he's one of the most talented drivers we have.

"I don't think anybody else could go to WRC and perform at the level he did, just come back and be right up to the pace again.

"I don't think there's anyone who doubts his skills or his talent but, as I said, you need to have a lot of things coming your way.

"If you look back last year, I had some races where things didn't come [my] way - it's up and down but usually throughout the season it sort of equals out."

Raikkonen believes things can get better if Ferrari improves the "small details" given the close margins between the top four drivers.

"I think I have had a little bit of a rough start to the season," said Raikkonen.

"It's far from ideal but the weekend [in Sochi] has been a step forward.

"We have been happier with how things have been running but we still only finished third.

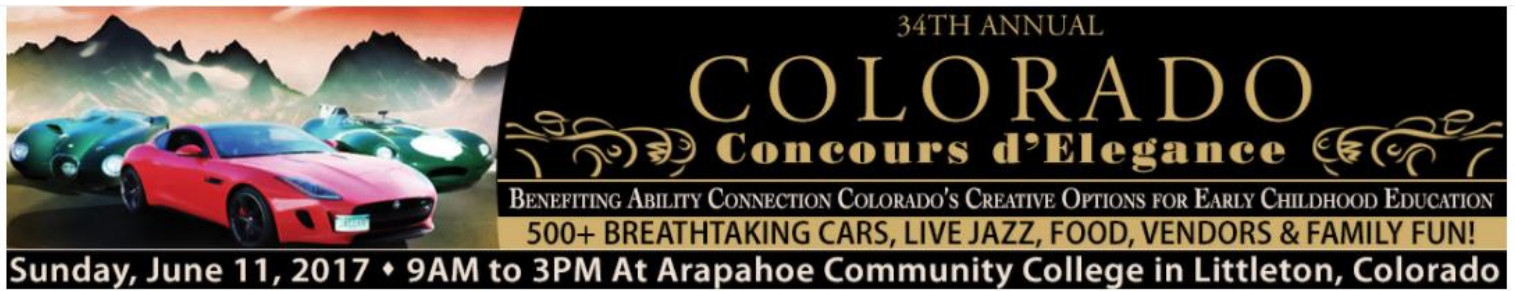

"We keep trying and keep improving and I'm sure we'll get there, but the small details have to be exactly there and then you will get the first place.

"The four or five of us are very close most of the time, so it's the small differences that make a big difference in the end."
